A word from the Dean

"Audencia Nantes leads the field of Global Responsibility research and teaching in France. Global Responsibility relies on the concept that social and environmental commitment are far from opposite to economic performance, they are complementary. Today, Audencia has succeeded in incorporating Global Responsibility in every subject taught at the School. Students are confronted with the social and environmental consequences of their decisions and encouraged to find alternative solutions in innovative and efficient ways."

Julia
German, MScPM Alumna, LVHM

“The Master is characterised by a good mix of theoretical knowledge transfer and practical application in group assignments. Thanks to relatively small study groups, individual questions and interests are actively answered by professors. Active participation of corporate partners & professionals in the classroom significantly contributed to the knowledge gained in the business practices of an evolving global environment. After graduating, I gained even more from the MScPM professional network with the support of career services. I landed a job interview with the luxury brand Louis Vuitton and today I am very proud to work for Louis Vuitton South Europe.”
